Simply a better quality of life.

Safe protection – lingerie look

Everyday life is often difficult for people suffering from incontinence. These people prefer to stay at home and often lose their social contacts. They do not like wearing disposable pants during sport. Even more, disposable pants are difficult to change on the go.

suprima inco briefs look like normal underwear. Modern inco briefs are made of cotton and have a PU membrane on the inside which is impermeable to moisture. They have a wider crotch to give pads enough space. Close-fitting leg gathers provide additional security.

With absorbent pads, suprima inco briefs offer perfect protection for every degree of incontinence - from light to heavy.

The number of drops indicates the degree of incontinence for which the product is suitable.

Material characteristics

PU (Polyurethane)

- breathable, no sweating
- water and urine proof
- elastic
- bacteria and virus-tight
- ecologically safe
- suitable for allergy sufferers; no fungal infestation

Cotton

- look like normal underwear
- reliable leakage protection
- breathable, but impermeable PU membrane inside provides leakage protection
- very pleasant to wear
- wide crotch and tight-fitting leg cuffs

Care Garments

Care overalls and bodies make it difficult or almost impossible for the patients to undress themselves and to remove diapers and pads.

The diagonal back zipper prevents pressure points on the spine. It allows the best access to the upper body of the patient for body care. It is not possible for the patient to undress him- or herself.

The inner side leg zipper allows an easy replacement or control of incontinence pads, or wound dressings without completely undressing the patient. A button fastener security on the zipper makes it difficult for the patients to undress themselves and to remove diapers and pads.
